

English 12- Minority Voices Summer Reading Project

Over the summer, students in Minority Voices are required to read the play A Raisin in the Sun by Lorraine Hansberry and annotate the conflicts that are presented to the Younger family as they try to overcome their minority struggles and reach their American Dream.

While reading the play: Students will take notes and underline/highlight passages that relate to meaningful conflicts concerning the following topics:

- Poverty
- Racial identity
- Discrimination
- The struggle to achieve the American Dream

As you track these conflicts, be sure to consider the struggles on a societal level regarding the Black experience in general, but also be specific in your thinking about these struggles on a personal and familial level for the Youngers. You will submit your annotations at the start of the year.

After you read: Students will be assessed on the play during the first two weeks of school and complete an in-class writing assignment on the character struggles in A Raisin in the Sun. Please be ready to identify a character and their journey throughout the play upon your arrival back to school.

Please email Ms. Paluch (cpaluch@stjohnschs.org) if you have any questions.
